We implicate nobody in this disgraceful affair-this most scoundrelly attempt to intimidate the editors of this paper. But if we could feel satisfied that that rooster is not the property of our contemporary of the Union and American, and that he was not sent here by our contemporary to frighten us from the line of duty we have blocked out and intend to pursue, we should cherish a much higher opinion of his love of fair dealing than, under present circumstances, we are compelled to entertain. We have always had the most favorable opinion of him as a politician, and we are deeply pained to think that he would instigate such an attempt to harrow up our feelings and swerve us from the line of duty. We earnestly trust that he will be able to slow incontestibly that he had nothing to do

Free Schools of Nashville

The Board "have performed their cuties faithfully and well, and in a manner that entitles them to the gratitude of the people of Nashville." It is well the committee bave informed the people of this, as the Board outsiders much what they have done. The law for creating a Board of Education was passed Sept. 7th, 1853. Sec. 7 "It shall be the duty of the Board of Education to make semi-annual reports to the Board of Mayor and Alderman." Dec. 15th, 1854, this law, is re-enacted with the addition "of the amount of money expended for the Public Schools, and how expended." By the rules of the Board, the Superintendent is to make "a report of his own labors and such suggestions and other information as he may deem worthy of notice, to be published with the annual report of the Board." From this it appears they intended to obey the law, and to have the report published with the report of the Superintendent, but it was only done for the first year, or part of a year. The first report of the Board, as published with the Superintendent's report, is a brief letter of the President, and a brief statement of "Expenditures and Receipts to 1st Sept. 1855," out it does not tell how long the schools were kept, by whom, or at what salary to them or to the Superintendent, how many teachers or pupils, the cost per pupil, whether books are furnished or not, or any of those tabular and views which Boards of Education usually Bur make to let people see what has been done Dr. with their money, and to enable them to judge of the economy of their schools. All the showing in regard to expenditures is: For the completion of the Hume High School building and repairing the Corporation School House on High street, $3,946 51 For Furniture for the several Schools, 2,282 03 For contingent expen-For salaries of Superin-tendent and Teachers, 6,499 15

$13,407 74 Kn It is customary to publish the names and salaries of every person employed. Without statistical information, what chance have the people to form the least idea of the economy or extravagance of those they trust, or must they depend on a committee on some extra occasion to inform them that they "have per-formed their duties faithfully and well." The Superintendent, in his report of 1855, con-soles us with, "My word for it, Nashville will become famous as a place of education, and Morrison Depot, as a breeder of men and women capable of Arrick Jones' rendering service to the State." A good stock, no doubt. I cannot learn that any report of either the Board or the Superintendent, was published in 1856.

All the report which the Board published in 1857 in in 1857, is:

NASHVILLE, October 8, 1847. To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Nash-Carthage, GENTLEMEN:-In conformity with the or-

Mr. JOHN MILLER has recently over- der of the Board of Education, I communi anled his saloon on Cedar street, and has re-year, with a request that you would order the same to be published.

The financial accounts of the Public Schools are kept and furnished to you by your Treasurer, and it is therefore unneces sary to make out an account of our expenditures and receipts. The books and vouchers are at all times ready to be produced, and our Secre-tary will furnish them when desired.

FRANCIS B. FOGG, President Board of Education. This is a very brief way of telling tax-payrs what has been done with some $30,000 of their property. That the Treasurer of the city keeps the accounts of the Public Schools is certainly a new idea. How can the Treasurer know what amount of books, &c., have been bought by Mr. Pearl, at what price bought and sold, and the amount of stock on hand? How can he know when Mr. P. is oriered to buy 30 gallons of ink at 30 cents, why he should buy 42 gallons at 60 cents? (See voucher and minutes of the Board.) How can the Treasurer know how to keep the ccounts without even having the vouchers? He keeps the accounts of his own office to show what money he had received and paid out on checks; but to call this keeping the accounts of the Public Schools is absurd. It simply lets the people know that above $200,-000 of their money has been paid out, whether prudently or not is for them to quess. Again, "it is therefore unneced ssary to make an account of our expenditures and receipts," and this too in the very face of the law passed December 15th, 1854, which says they shall "make some annual reports of the amount of money expended for Publie Schools, and how expended." Do the Board and Superintendent think laws are made, like pie-crusts, to be broken. "The books and vouchers are at all times ready to be produced, and our Secretary will fur nish them when desired." Ah, if they are ready at all times, how happened it that a gentleman outside of the Board had to work everal days on them before they were handed over to the Committee ! These vouchers are here spoken of as evidence of payment, yet this was dealed before the conmittee, because they were not receipted, and yet the check-book shows that these unreceipted bills have been paid, and that too, in many instances in direct violation of the Board's own rules that all sums paid out shall be receipted on a receipt-book kept for that purpose. The letter of the President is published in connection with the report of he Superintendent

In 1858 the report of the Superintendent a published, but without a single line from the Board.

The reports of the Superintendent for 1857 and 1858 are literary curiosities, on account of his easy disregard for the rules of grammar as laid down by such fogys as Lindsley Murray, and for the meaning of words and for the structure of sentences. This I suppose accounts for "the influite call for home mon Council, unanimously signed, against the leachers." Infinitude was once an attribute of Deity and his works, but in its new use does the infinite belong to the calls or to the number of calls? I commend them to the study of the student. A criticism on them would scarcity of ice in that city. That's what the Unlike hastely written editorials, they are be profitable to the pupils of the free school. the careful product of a year's thought and

His reports have generally been made July, but that for 1859 is dated Oct. 1st. P. S .- Will the Board be so kind as to re turn the minutes of the Board to the Record er's office, where they were kept before I be gan publishing these articles. True, I have some further notes which I took before the minutes were withdrawn, but I wish to have further access to them; and the people wish to compare my statements and the com mittee's, to see who is correct. For the Board to ask for a committee who report against the correctness of my statements, and then withdraw the records from which I had quoted and on which I based my statements, is rather an uneqal game besides, it appears to me that the Board owe it to themselves to treat the people in such manner as not to lead them to believe the Board unwilling to have their original re-

WHITES, CHLOROSIS, etc., PIMPLES ON THE FACE, ROUGHNESS OF THE SKIN, etc. The IRON being absorbed by the blood, and thus circulating through the whole system, no part of the body can escape their truly wonderful influence.

The experience of (housands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for a moment be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. In all cases of female debility (fluor albus, chlorosis, etc.), its affects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and ully restorative effects. Good appetite, com-plete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.
